TWO BREAK FROM CITY JAIL--RECAPTURED

Wreckage of Clipper Picked Up Near Samoa

NO TRACE OF PLANE CREW OF SEVEN MEN

U.S. Naval Ship Finds Fragments of Samoan Clipper 14 Miles From Pago Pago

Musick One Of Explosion Victims

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States navy received a wireless message today the aircraft tender Avocet was picking up wreckage of the Samoan Clipper near Pago Pago, American Samoa. There was no mention of survivors.

"Avocet sighted heavy oil slick latitude 14.08.20, longitude 170.151 (about 14 miles west of Pago Pago); has motor launch picking up parts wrecked plane," said a message from the navy launch. The message added tersely: "Identification satisfactory."

The plane and her crew of seven men, headed by the veteran trans-Pacific aviator Captain Edwin C. Musick had turned back from a flight to Auckland, N.Z. It had not been heard from since 8.27 a.m. Tuesday, Samoan time, (12.27 p.m. P.S.T.) Musick reported the crew then was dumping gasoline and preparing to land.

Earlier he reported he was abandoning an attempt to complete the 1,806-mile flight from Pago Pago to Auckland, N.Z., because of an oil leak.

DEATHS LISTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Juan T. Tripp, president of Pan-American Airways, said today it had been "definitely established" Capt. Edwin C. Musick and six other members of his crew aboard the wrecked Samoan Clipper were dead.

Tripp said on the basis of radio reports received from the United States naval station in Samoa it had been determined the seven men were killed at approximately 8.30 o'clock (Samoan time) Tuesday when the big flying boat "was destroyed by fire of unknown origin."

USUAL PRACTICE

"It is apparent from the facts now available," he said, however, "that the fire developed incidental to the discharge of fuel necessary to trim the ship to proper landing weight, which was in line with conservative and normal practice."

The Samoan Clipper carried only air express besides the crew. Tripp said he believed "Captain Musick and his flight crew are entirely blameless."

Mackenzie Punctures Claim of Houde, Montreal, Five Divisions For Abroad

OTTAWA (CP)—"There is not the shadow of a foundation for any such statement," was the comment of Defence Minister Ian Mackenzie today on observations attributed to Camille Houde, Independent candidate in the Montreal-St. Henry federal by-election, regarding Canada's military forces.

Speaking to electors, Mr. Houde was quoted as saying Tuesday evening there existed a "secret report" at Ottawa from the "British military organization." This report, the Independent candidate said, required Canada to effect an armament programme to enable this country to send five divisions of troops

Nitinat Route Not Considered

West Coast Road Route Is On Victoria-Port Renfrew Line

Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, said today his department had under consideration no other route for the West Coast Road than an extension of the present highway beyond Jordan River to Port Renfrew.

Mr. MacPherson's comment was the outcome of discussion at the Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting this week, when it was suggested that up-land interests were urging the road from Port Renfrew be switched through the Nitinat country to Duncan.

The minister said he had heard of this but it was not under consideration by the department. Surveys of the coast route to Port Renfrew on the beach level have been completed, Mr. MacPherson said, but there has been no final decision on whether the road should follow this line or the bench route as originally proposed.

The object of the survey was to discover a feasible route near the beach both from the standpoint of cheaper construction and for making it a more scenic highway. The bench route is some distance inland from the coast at many points.

Two Japanese Gunboats Sunk

Chinese Fliers Report Craft Sent Down in Yangtze; Japanese Take Tsining

HANKOW (AP)—Chinese commanders announced Wednesday their fliers had scored heavily against Japanese in three encounters.

They said Chinese bombers had sent two Japanese gunboats in the Yangtze River at Wuhu, destroyed two munitions trains near Hefei, and shot down two Japanese bombers at Luilow.

SHANGHAI (AP)—The Japanese-dominated provisional government at Peiping is planning to keep pace with Japan's North China armies by taking over control of Shantung, China's "sacred" province.

"Canada's position with regard to her armed forces has not altered since I set forth the situation in the House of Commons 11 months ago," the minister declared. Thirty Pounds of Baggage Limit For Twenty-month Stay

Mrs. Alan Deacon to Join Husband at Far Northern Wireless Station

With 30 pounds of baggage Mrs. Alan Deacon will leave Victoria on Saturday to spend the next 20 months at Coppermine, on the ice-sheathed shores of Coronation Gulf, 1,500 miles due north of Edmonton.

Mrs. Deacon will join her husband, who is operator at the Dominion Government wireless station at Coppermine.

Mrs. Deacon will proceed to Edmonton by rail, and next Tuesday morning will take off by airplane for Coppermine. She will be the first woman to fly over this route in the winter.

Mrs. Deacon will have to travel light as space on the mail plane, the first to fly to Coppermine since last September, will be at a premium. She has been limited to 30 pounds, and is now busy making a choice of what she will take.

The plane will make about 500 miles a day, flying mostly in the twilight, and Mrs. Deacon expects to reach Coppermine late on the third day or early on the fourth. When not in the air she will spend her time at trading posts along the route.

Took Evidence At Hongkong

Henry Castillon, Vancouver lawyer who was crown counsel at the Vancouver fall assizes, returned today by the liner Empress of Canada from Hongkong, where he secured evidence on a case in which five Chinese are charged with conspiracy to dis-tribute narcotics.

He was accompanied by Detective-Corporal G. J. Haywood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Evidence was taken on commission before Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell of the Hongkong Superior Court on December 20 in behalf of Gordon Lim, Chang Sing-Jung, Yong Ying, Lee Hoy and Lum How, all of Vancouver.

The trial of the Chinese has stood adjourned since last October when Senator J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., defense counsel, applied to Mr. Justice Harold B. Robertson for a commission.

RAIN HOLDS COLD SPELL

Victorians Awakened in Night By Driving Rain and Blasts From Albert Head

A storm from the Pacific that swept over Vancouver Island and the lower mainland last night staved off an expected cold snap that was approaching from the far north and the interior of the province.

Following a raw, dull day that threatened snow, the weather turned milder last night and by midnight rain was falling. There was a little sleet at first and then rain came down in torrents, driven by a southwest wind that rattled doors and windows and caused light sleepers to arise and close windows.

The night was an unusually noisy one, for, added to the rain and wind was a series of blasts from the new fortifications at Albert Head.

This morning was one of the darkest of the winter and lights were not turned off in offices and homes until after 9. Then the sun came out and shone warmly for many hours, after which there were more blustery showers.

Weather observers at Gonzales this morning said the present squally weather, with milder temperatures, would continue for another 24 or 36 hours. They could see no cold weather immediately in store for Victoria and the island.

Fruit Growers Want Hearing on Pacts

B.C. Association Urges Ottawa Hear Views Before U.S. or British Changes

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—The annual convention of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association today adopted a resolution urging that "secrecy attending negotiations" which might affect the preferred position of Canadian products on the British market be lifted to allow the fruit industry to "know the extent to which it may be affected."

The resolution also asks that opportunity be given the Pacific Coast fruit growers to make "full representations to a properly constituted government committee."

A second resolution urges retention of the tariffs and dump duties on fruit and vegetables entering Canada.

MOTIONS COMBINED

Following are the texts of the resolutions passed by the convention after a special committee had combined seven motions from various locals:

"Imperial preference. "Whereas in the past our fruit growers frequently have been forced to sell their fruit at less than average cost of production; "And whereas the growing of free fruits has been stimulated by the preferential tariff and it is a life-time business which cannot be changed without heavy financial loss to the grower; "And whereas any sudden modification or elimination of prefer-

POLICE BOARD IS APPROVED

New Victoria Commission Is Given Cabinet Endorsement

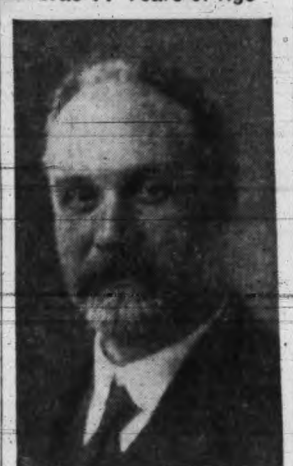

Victoria's new police commission was legally empowered to act today as the provincial government gave its formal approval to the appointment of the two city aldermen chosen by the council to sit with Mayor Andrew McGavin on the board.

Aldermen Edward Williams and Archie Willis were elected by the council. Under terms of the Municipal Act setting up the new board, the government reserved the right to approve the city's choice. Today's order-in-council gave this approval.

The city clerk today was notified of the government's order.

JAS. MAYNARD PASSES AWAY

Pioneer Merchant of Victoria Dies After Long Illness; Was 77 Years of Age

LATE JAMES MAYNARD

James Maynard, for many years one of Victoria's leading merchants, died at his home, 1222 Pandora Avenue, yesterday afternoon, after a lengthy illness. He was 77 years of age.

It was as a young man of 23 years that Mr. Maynard arrived in Victoria 54 years ago from his birthplace in Bude, Cornwall, England. He was not long in the city before he opened a shoe-maker's shop in a small, old-fashioned building on Douglas Street, opposite the City Hall.

Before long his business prospered and he was forced to move. Within a few years he had become a shoe merchant, and built up one of the largest businesses of its kind in the city. His last place of business was at 649 Yates Street.

At one time in his life Mr. Maynard interested himself in the sealing trade. He and Thomas Stockham bought the sealing schooner Thomas F. Bayard and (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Press Censorship Is Beyond Powers of Alberta, Court Told

Canada's Supreme Tribunal Hears Dominion Argument Against Regulation Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—News-paper censorship is a matter for the Dominion Parliament and not for a provincial Legislature, Aime Geoffrion, Dominion government counsel, today told the Supreme Court of Canada as he continued his argument on references concerning the validity of three Alberta bills dealing with newspapers, credit regulation and bank taxation.

Mr. Geoffrion reached the newspaper bill just before the court adjourned for lunch after spending nearly a day and a half on the credit regulation measure and a brief time on bank taxation.

Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff asked what the legal argument against the newspaper bill was and why it was not property and civil rights under provincial jurisdiction.

Mr. Geoffrion said it might be incidental to civil rights, but the liberty of the press fell under Dominion jurisdiction over peace, order and good government. He said liberty of the press was the freedom of persons to publish newspapers if they chose and without government influence as to what they published in their newspapers.

FEDERAL POWER

"The Dominion government might regulate every newspaper in Canada in any way it chose," said the Chief Justice. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Detectives Woodburn and Calwell Seize Fugitives Near High School

Police Board Meeting Called

Two men sawed their way out of the city jail early this morning and were back in cells before noon today under a heavy guard. One surrendered peacefully. The other was taken only after a wild chase over back fences and through empty lots in the High School area in the course of which shots were fired.

The two men were Thomas Schaeffer, 24, and Theodore (Teddy) Carveth, 28. They were captured by Detectives Fearon Woodburn and Walter Calwell of the city police force.

Carveth surrendered himself to detectives. Schaeffer was cornered by Detective Woodburn in a garage doorway on Johnson Street, between Camosun Street and Fernwood Road, five minutes later.

Schaeffer was awaiting speedy trial in County Court Friday on a charge of breaking and entering the premises of the Standard Steam Laundry.

Carveth was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in Oak Bay Police Court yesterday afternoon on a charge of stealing a watch from a Chinese houseboy at "Cherrybank" and also had been committed for trial on a charge of breaking and entering the home of R. W. Gibson, 1590 York Place.

The two men made their getaway from the city jail some time between 2 and 6 this morning by removing the window pane of their cell and sawing away the bars.

COMMISSION TO MEET

A police commission meeting was called for 4.30 this afternoon in connection with the break.

The two men's escape was discovered shortly after 6 this morning by Sergeant Thomas Hall, who had been on duty on the desk in the charge office during the night.

The break-out was made by sawing through the curved lower portion of three of the bars covering the ground-floor window of a large cell at the extreme end of the alleyway running past the charge office, on the east side of the police station.

Two of the bars had been sawed through in two places, allowing the middle section to drop out. The third was cut at the top and bent down.

NARROW OPENING

The windows pane, which had apparently been removed whole, was made of heavy glass, with wire mesh embedded in it and was only 10x12 inches. The getaway must have been a difficult one, especially for Schaeffer, who is stocky and broad in the shoulders. The window is separated from the bars by a space of about eight inches.

The window is at the extreme end of the alleyway, in the corner formed between the outside wall of the cell block and oblique wall at the end. It is about four feet from the ground.

The heavy gale which was blowing throughout the early morning muffled the sound of the break, which was made within 60 feet of the charge office door.

The escape must further have been complicated by the fact that a large number of bicycles were parked along the cell block wall, with two lying one on top of the other immediately under the window.

operated her to the Bering Sea. This venture brought in big returns for Mr. Maynard.

When Mr. Maynard first came to town, the old Methodist Church was located at the corner of Broad Street and Pandora Avenue, not far from his shoe repair shop. He joined that church and his affiliation with it strengthened throughout the years. He also interested himself in the activities of the Ancient Order of Foresters.

In his quiet way Mr. Maynard did a great deal of good in Victoria. Many poor families depended on him for boots and shoes when it was time for their youngsters to start school. The Friendly Help Society always called on him at Christmas time for a supply of shoes for those who could not afford to buy them.

In recent years Mr. Maynard spent a great deal of time at his Elk Lake farm. He developed it largely himself and was never happier than when among his flowers and vegetables.

He leaves his widow, two sons, Ernest G. Maynard and William Maynard, of Victoria; three brothers, Harry, in Victoria; Thomas in England, and George in Okanagan; four sisters in England, Mrs. Perriman, Ilfracombe; Mrs. Dyer, London; Mrs. Gill and Mrs. Smith, Bude; one nephew in Victoria, J. Stanley Gill; three granddaughters and three grandsons.

The remains are resting at the McCall Brothers' Funeral Home, from where the funeral will take place Friday afternoon at 2. Rev. A. E. Whitehouse will conduct the service, after which interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

PILOT KILLED IN ONTARIO

J. H. McCoy Loses Life in Plane Crash in Wilds Near Hudson

SIoux LOOKOUT, Ont. (CP) — Pilot J. H. (Tim) McCoy, 34, Toronto, was killed today when the General Airways plane he was piloting crashed at North Pines, near Hudson. McCoy was alone in the machine.

McCoy was flying from Sioux Lookout to Hudson, 15 miles west of here, when the plane crashed in the bush. Search parties found the burning remains of the plane from which the pilot had been unable to escape.

Hudson is about 100 miles east of Kenora. R. Botham of Hudson said he saw the machine fall. A search plane piloted by Bud Scouten of Hudson was unable to land within two miles of the wreckage of McCoy's plane and ground parties had to hack their way two miles through woods to the spot.

ential tariffs would jeopardize the future stability of the fruit industry and the other industries wholly or partly dependent on it, and there would also be great doubt as to the industry being able to survive, unless assisted by some form of government subsidy.

"And whereas approximately 50 per cent of the Canadian commercial apple crop is sold on the United Kingdom market.

"Be it resolved, that while realizing that any action contemplated by the government on this matter may be and probably is the result of an emergency, this convention wishes to go on record that, while ready to accept its responsibility as Canadian citizens when an emergency occurs, it urges that our fruit industry be not in any way sacrificed;

At Coppermine Mr. Deacon is operator at the wireless station, which was established 15 years ago by the Dominion Government. It is a code station and contacts any ships in the Arctic, and during the winter provides Ottawa with weather reports. It also handles any business from trappers or traders in those parts. During the search last summer for the Russian fliers lost in the Arctic Sir Hubert Wilkins operated out of Coppermine because of the wireless station there.

At Coppermine Mrs. Deacon will reside in a small house, which is practically air-tight. Two-foot blocks of snow have been piled all around the house and the windows are covered with thick ice.

Although this is the farthest Mrs. Deacon has been from civilization, she has spent much of her life in isolated spots, where her husband has been stationed at wireless plants. For three years her husband served at Pachen, which overlooks the Graveyard of the Pacific on the west coast of Vancouver Island. For two years she was at Digby Island, which is a short distance from Prince Rupert, and she had another stretch at Cape Lazo, which is at the northern entrance to the Gulf of Georgia.

Mrs. Deacon will remain at Coppermine for 20 months, when her husband's assignment there will end. There are about 10 white people at Coppermine.

Mrs. Deacon admits that the trip offers the thrill of her life. She has never flown before.

Mrs. Deacon is well-known in Victoria. She is a member of the Service family, which formerly resided at Lake Hill.

Man Accused of Holding Girl of Seven Faces Trial

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Wilmer Steel, 29, London, was charged today with kidnapping seven-year-old Barbara Hebblethwaite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hebblethwaite, London. Magistrate Donald Menzies remanded Steel to jail until January 19.

Last Friday Barbara Hebblethwaite disappeared shortly after she had left the Governor Simcoe School, where she had attended a class party.

Police, neighbors and relatives searched all Friday night and Saturday. The child was returned home Saturday evening and told police she had been kept 24 hours in a house against her will. Steel was arrested and held until today on a vagrancy charge. When he was brought into court today a new charge was read.

Quake Alarms Many Japanese

Reports of Damage in Kyushu and Islands Are Expected

TOKIO (AP) — A severe earthquake shook an unusually wide area of Japan Wednesday, sending thousands of frightened Japanese rushing from their homes.

Considerable damage was believed to have been done.

The quake, which lasted 20 minutes, extended over the large islands of Kyushu and Shikoku, as well as most of the southern part of the principal Japanese island, Honshu.

A forest fire was started in Wakayama prefecture when a charcoal burner's hut collapsed. Clocks stopped in Tokyo and household articles tumbled to the floor.

NO CLOSING OF THE YANGTZE

LONDON (AP) — Great Britain today refused to submit to an attempt by Japan to close the Yangtze River to neutral merchant shipping.

An informed source disclosed Japan had suggested it would be impossible to permit the passage of non-Japanese vessels up China's great inland waterway, on which foreign ships have had the right to travel for almost a century.

The British government, said this source, replied it reserved the right to move British ships wherever it pleased in China waters.

Group Rounded Up in Lisbon

Persons Arrested Charged As Communists Plotting Revolt in Army

LISBON (AP) — Police today arrested a number of persons they described as Communists trying to incite a revolt in the Portuguese army and navy.

Many of the arrests were made after a pistol battle in a burning house, said to have been the main Communist headquarters.

Among several suspects seized elsewhere was a woman who police said had made "sensational revelations" about a terrorist organization in Portugal with connections abroad.

(Uncensored reports to Gibraltar Tuesday described a serious rift between Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, Portugal's strong man, and officers of the regular army.)

PAPERS IN SUITCASE

According to the police account, secret agents trailed "a certain well-known person" carrying a suitcase to the alleged Communist headquarters. He was arrested and the suitcase was found to be full of proclamations intended for distribution to soldiers and sailors urging them to rebel against the Salazar government.

Police said other Communists saw the arrest from a third-floor apartment and set the house afire to destroy evidence. Police and a fire brigade had a pistol fight on the stairs before they reached the main apartment. No casualties were reported.

The Gibraltar dispatches said trouble had arisen from the premier's decree ordering drastic army reorganization. Troops waited in their barracks last Friday, it was said, "ready to act if necessary," while army officers sent an ultimatum to Salazar demanding cancellation of the decree.

"Oh yes," said Mr. Geoffrion, "I am compelled to take that stand."

The newspaper bill passed by the Alberta Legislature and not signed by Lieutenant-Governor Bowen but sent by him to the Dominion government, which referred it to the Supreme Court, is entitled "An Act to Ensure the Publication of Accurate News and Information." Its provisions would require newspapers to publish corrective or amplifying matter on any statement referring to government policy. Enforcement of the measure would be under the Social Credit Board.

SOCIAL CREDIT OUTLINED

In his earlier argument this morning, dealing with credit regulation and bank taxation, Mr. Geoffrion gave the court an outline of the Social Credit Act, which is not part of the reference before the court, but which, he said, was a key measure in a general scheme to establish social credit in Alberta and a measure which the court should examine.

He argued the Alberta Credit Clearing House was a bank under another name, and that its transactions would be banking transactions, falling, therefore, under Dominion jurisdiction and beyond the powers of the provincial Legislature.

SYSTEM OF BARTER

"A point against you might be that is just an elaborate system of barter," the Chief Justice remarked.

Mr. Geoffrion said barter was the exchange of one article for another, but the transactions with which he was dealing would involve exchange of goods for certificates of credit which would serve the same purpose as cheques on a bank or paper money.

As he was outlining the Social Credit Act, Mr. Geoffrion said provisions relating to retailers and wholesalers might be "staggering" or "surprising," but it was to be expected a new economic order would startle those who had grown up under the older order.

O. M. Biggar, counsel for Alberta, told the court the measure Mr. Geoffrion called staggering was not before the court, and had nothing to do with measures before the court.

"We need light more than heat," said Chief Justice Duff. "Well, it's a cold day," said Mr. Geoffrion (it was 10 below zero), "but I don't think there is much fuel in the word 'staggering.' I was not criticizing anything in the act."

"Well, it's a dry subject," the Chief Justice replied, "and perhaps a little interlude like this doesn't do any harm."

FIVE CONTROLS

Mr. Geoffrion listed five different kinds of teeth or controls in the general plan which he said made the credit regulation bill void as an interference with federal jurisdiction over banking.

The controls:

The power of the government to accept or reject Alberta credit in payment of obligations due it. Persons who refused to conform to government aims could be compelled to pay over their Canadian currency to the government and so be placed in a less favorable position as against their competitors.

The right of the government to classify the population for the receipt of social dividends. There was room for discrimination against certain groups and individuals.

The control exercised over retail and wholesale merchants through the retail discount rate. Retailers who accepted Alberta credit would receive compensation for discounts granted their customers. Such retailers could only buy goods from the wholesalers who agreed to conform to the plan.

The government had taken power to license all trades and businesses, and the livelihood of almost every citizen, apart from the farmers and ranchers, was at the mercy of a minister.

TWO BREAK FROM CITY JAIL—RECAPTURED

and taken to a house on Whitaker Street, led to the capture.

Detectives Caldwell and Woodburn went to the house and were trying to start the car to take it down to the police station when they saw the two men approaching.

They challenged the two, and Carveth surrendered without a fight. Schaeffer ran, chased by Detective Woodburn.

He leapt over several back fences during his flight. After chasing him over several lots and firing three shots, Detective Woodburn cut back to the road and circled around him. He was finally cornered at the point of the detective's gun on Johnson Street.

He struggled as he was put in the police car, and showed fight again when he was brought into the charge office at the police station, where $20 was found in his pocket.

The two were brought to the station at 11:37.

EARLIER MANHUNT

Earlier this morning the escape had led to a manhunt, which stretched from the Wilfrids Fair Grounds to Cordova Bay, with city, Oak Bay and Saanich police taking part. The hunt followed a report the two men had been sighted at the fair grounds at 7:30.

As soon as the break was discovered calls were sent out to all police departments on the island and to the mainland. They were cancelled after the capture of the two men.

Schaeffer had been out on bail until Monday, and police presume he had smuggled a saw into the jail block at the time of his return. The bars showed clean saw marks, indicating a good tool had been used.

The break was the first at the city station since 1931, when a prisoner saved his way out through a window under the stairway in the cell block and made his getaway during a fog, only to be recaptured later in Winnipeg.

R. B. DUNN IS LAID TO RESTMany Friends Attend
Funeral Service For Well-liked Columnist

Victoria's newspaper fraternity and a host of sorrowing friends who knew him personally and through his widely-read column, yesterday paid their final tribute to the late Robert B. Dunn at funeral services conducted in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

From a sickbed, his friend and fellow newspaperman, Rev. J. K. Unsworth rose to conduct the service, and in simple-hearted language, expressed the high regard in which the doyen of Victoria journalists was held by others in his profession.

"R. B. Dunn was one of Victoria's best-known citizens—not, indeed, as to his physical appearance, for he lived a quiet life, but as to the soul of the man, his real self," said Dr. Unsworth.

WIDELY KNOWN

"For many years he wrote his daily column, 'Note and Comment,' in The Colonist," Dr. Unsworth continued. "A columnist is of all newspapermen the best known. Because of his special job he must be personal, intimate, friendly and frank. He cannot but bare his soul to the public gaze. So it was that R. B. Dunn was the best-known man on The Colonist staff, even to many who never saw him in the flesh. There are people scattered all over the world who really knew this man."

"He was a genial soul, well-balanced and wise; a friendly man, kindly disposed toward human nature, not thinking too severely of its foibles and sins, and he was a keen observer of social and political life, with three score years' experience in the world of journalism."

STOUT FIGHTER

"I cannot remember any note of criticism ever creeping into his discussions from day to day," Dr. Unsworth declared. "He was a fighter who stood stoutly for truth as he saw it, but he always fought fairly and was strong for all the reverences of life, for the sacredness of the home, of religion and of democracy, and for the worth of personality, of work and of courtesy. And through it all flowed the humor that oils the contacts of life."

"Never did R. B. Dunn write a word or suggest a thought that could not be discussed at the family supper table. For those who had the privilege of his acquaintance, appreciation of the fine qualities of the man deepened into regard and affection. One could not help liking him. One might disagree with him, but he was fair and kind. He was businesslike and he was kindly, and my heart went out to him on the day we first met."

WIDELY MOURNED

To those to whom the passing of Mr. Dunn was a special sorrow, Dr. Unsworth gave assurance they were surrounded by sympathetic friends who appreciated the merits of the fine human character of the late columnist.

The service opened with a prayer by Dr. Unsworth, followed by the hymn "O Love That Wilt Not Let Me Go." Rev. P. C. Hayman conducted the Scripture reading and paid tribute to the literary ability, cheerful personality and upstanding characters of Mr. Dunn.

As the service closed with the hymn "Abide With Me," the casket was taken from the church by Alderman Archib Wills, Sandham Graves, S. R. Bowden, C. F. Banfield, C. F. Moriarty and O. H. Nelson.

Honorary pallbearers were Major Gordon Smith, Wm. Dee, Christian Sibert, Cnas. Swayne, Alex. McKeachie, H. Wheeler and James Morton.

S. J. Curry & Son directed the funeral arrangements.

Many beautiful floral tributes were laid upon the grave, among them being wreaths from The Daily Colonist, The Colonist editorial staff, The Colonist business office, Victoria Lodge No. 1, A.O.U.W.; officers and members of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, the Victoria branch of the British Columbia Institute of Journalists, and the Pacific Club. Individual floral tributes were sent by Premier T. D. Pattullo, Hon. John Hart, and many personal friends of the late Mr. Dunn.

Interment was made in the family plot in the Colwood Burial Park.

ENDORSE WELL
TEST SCHEME

Ward Four Saanich Ratepayers Behind Council's Water Proposal

Ward Four Ratepayers Association of Saanich, after hearing an explanation from Councillor E. C. Warren of the municipal council's plan to sink a test well for the water supply, last night voted unanimously in favor of the proposal.

F. Young sponsored the resolution. The meeting was in Roy Road Hall.

Councillor Warren told the ratepayers that a resolution passed Monday night at Mount Tolmie opposing the plan had done irreparable harm because Saanich was now negotiating with the city for a new water agreement.

The speaker said the idea of the well scheme was partly a matter of cost. A deep well supply system might cost from $150,000 to $200,000 against from $250,000 to $500,000 required for a reservoir if the municipality continued to take water from the city.

Writers of letters to the paper on the subject had a wrong idea, Councillor Warren declared. The taxpayers had been led to believe that contracts for digging the wells were let. As a matter of fact a contract for the test well had not been given.

Beside the price question Councillor Warren said the council was also seeking a remedy to the pressure problem, and looking to the future supply. In three years, he said, pressure on the 12-inch main had dropped from 135 to 80 pounds. Even with installation of pumps some of the higher parts of the district were unable to get water.

When sewers were put in double the amount of water would be required. With pressure dropping under the present demand the system could not handle double the supply. An expensive reservoir would be needed to supply the higher ground.

Only expenditure on the well testing proposal so far was $150 for the visit of an expert from the United States, he said. The suggestion now was that $2,000 be spent on a test well, this cost to be borne by the waterworks branch, not out of general revenue. Before going any further the council wanted to be assured of the quality and quantity of well water available. John Warnock presided at the meeting.

MOTHER OF FIVE WHO WAS ALWAYS TIREDNow Awakes as Fresh as a Daisy

A mother of five has a lot to do. Especially a country mother. And this one was "always tired." But Kruschen ended all that—now she gets up, feeling fresh, at 5 o'clock in the morning! She writes:

"I find Kruschen Salts the best thing money can buy for my health. I am the mother of five children, and before taking Kruschen, I was always feeling tired and rundown. Now, I am glad to say that I get up feeling fresh—and I get up at 5 o'clock in the morning. I do my housework, look after my children, and leave the house at 6:30 to start my daily work."—(Mrs.) B.

Tiredness and that rundown feeling can be traced to one root cause. That cause is internal sluggishness; failure to keep the inside free from poisonous waste matter.

Kruschen Salts is an excellent recipe for maintaining a condition of internal cleanliness. The numerous salts in Kruschen stimulate your internal organs to smooth, regular action. Your inside is thus kept clear of those impurities which, when allowed to accumulate, lower the whole tone of the system. (Adv.)

Japan's Next Move

IT IS ANTICIPATED IN BOTH LONDON and Washington that Japan's next move, consequent upon the conference of her most prominent statesmen with the Emperor, will be an official declaration of war against China. Such a course would not materially change the relations between the two countries which have been engaged in costly and brutal conflict for many months. But until the traditional formula is employed by the aggressor nation her actions on land and sea and in the air must conform to the rigid requirements of international law. Observance of some of them, of course, has been more or less ignored on several occasions; but the now familiar explanations and apologies have prevented anything approaching the severance, for example, of diplomatic relations between Tokyo and the capitals of the chief democratic powers.

How much this expected declaration of war on the part of Japan will change the present tolerant attitude of Great Britain, France, and the United States remains to be seen. Under conditions as they now exist the Japanese navy cannot interfere with shipping and trade without running grave risks of international "incidents." With war formally declared against China, however, Japan would be within her legal rights if she considered it to her strategic advantage to blockade the coast of China and subjected all shipping to search for war and other materials consigned to her enemy's territory. A similar condition confronted the United States and other neutral countries after Great Britain blockaded Germany. Indeed, not a few uncomfortable situations developed when in several instances the United States government complained to Downing Street that American ships had been unwarrantedly interfered with on the high seas by British war vessels. The tension thus generated, of course, was completely relieved in the spring of 1917 when our neighbors to the south entered the war against the Central European powers and assisted in making the Anglo-French blockade of Germany still more effective.

The question now looming is how far Japan will go in her apparent intention to test still further the patience of those powers whose interests may well become seriously involved in the developments of an official state of war. There are indications that the military party in the Japanese capital is satisfied with the amount of war material already at its disposal and thinks it sufficient to enable it to carry out whatever programme it has set as its final objective. The effect of a carefully arranged boycott and the complete stoppage of all supplies to Japan naturally depends upon the size of the stocks she has on hand.

It is not difficult to imagine conditions that would be produced if the Japanese navy should begin to hold up British and United States shipping and take vessels into neutral ports to search them. There could be no serious objection as long as the circumscribed provisions of "right of search" are strictly adhered to. But Japan is evidently not in the mood to instruct her naval officers to remain rigidly within the provisions of international law and behave like gentlemen under all circumstances. Upon the next move, then, will depend to a very large extent the future trend of events in the Orient.

Under and Overworked

LARGE NUMBERS OF PERSONS ARE unemployed while "many useful citizens die prematurely from overwork." This tragic state of affairs is commented on by Dr. O. F. Hedley of the U.S. Public Health Service. Dr. Hedley is investigating the problem of heart disease, one form of which is responsible for the premature deaths from overwork that Dr. Hedley comments on.

A great many deaths from heart disease, 30 out of every 100, occur in persons past 70 years old. These cannot be classed as premature, and Dr. Hedley points out that as a result of saving lives in earlier decades by controlling diseases such as typhoid fever and diphtheria, more deaths from heart disease at older levels are inevitable.

At present, however, more than half the heart disease deaths occur before the individuals have lived out their normal life spans. Rheumatic heart disease, for example, causes at least 40,000 deaths every year and the average age at which these victims die is 30 years. In their case the tragedy is that they have never had a chance to work.

A large amount of heart disease, about 60 per cent, Dr. Hedley estimates, is the result of high blood pressure, hardening of the heart arteries and hardening of the arteries all over the body. Many of these victims die at an advanced age. The same condition occurs far too often, however, in middle life. The average age at death from coronary thrombosis is 60 years. This condition is a stoppage of the heart's arteries as a result of thickening and hardening of the walls. It seems more frequent among business and professional men than among wage-earners, and the strain of ceaseless work and worry is often held responsible. Victims of this heart malady are, presumably, the ones Dr. Hedley sees dying of overwork in the midst of unemployment.

Kultur—Japanese, German

OPINIONS WILL DIFFER, OF COURSE, on Japan's objective in conducting an undeclared and "defensive" war on Chinese soil. But those who may be showing a tendency to deliver hasty judgment might learn something from this dispatch from Berlin: "Shigenori Togo presented his credentials as Japanese ambassador tonight, telling Chancellor Hitler Germany and Japan adhered to the anti-Communist pact because they believed they were 'predestined to protect world culture.' Togo succeeds Viscount Kimitomo Mushakoji."

There you are. Japan and Germany are predestined "to protect world culture." After a few hundred thousand have seen the pictures of the Panay "incident" this high and lofty programme ought to commend itself to the most confirmed skeptic.

We seem to remember, however, that Germany started goosestepping across Belgium in the summer of 1914 and promptly spread Teutonic "kultur" among helpless women and children.

Two Suspicious Nations

NEITHER AUSTRIA NOR HUNGARY IS in the mood to be cajoled by Italy into joining the Rome-Berlin-Tokio anti-Communist pact. Hungary appears to see in it a greater threat to democratic institutions than a genuine desire to curb Communism. Austria's Chancellor Schuschnigg does not think either his country or Hungary has anything to fear from the gospel which dominates the government at Moscow.

The ditty that they have united in their battle against Communism for the benefit of the world already has been revealed as a cloak under which Germany, Italy, and Japan can pose for their own particular advantages. There is no need to try to fight an enemy which has no quarrel with anybody else. All Russia has asked for is to be left alone to work out her own salvation. As long as she does not include in her domestic plans any schemes for rocking the international boat, there is no need for Germany, Italy, and Japan to set up an anti-Soviet racket.

No need for such a policy is seen, for example, by Great Britain, the United States, or France. Now we see two of the small Continental European nations refusing to be disturbed by this latest attempt of Mussolini to frighten them with the spurious bogeyman.

Perennial Passes

IT SEEMS ALMOST TOO BAD TO SEE the Baker swindle finally exposed. For that hardy perennial has been fooling hundreds of people for 35 years. It is almost like an old friend, even though a false one.

Now postal inspection sleuths have announced, finally and forever, that the Baker estate in which so many trustful ones have hoped to share, never existed. The whole scheme is fraudulent, and all the Bakers and Beckers who have contributed $1,500,000 in the hope of sharing in the nonexistent but opulent Pennsylvania fortune have only the experience for their money.

Of course that is something. The next question is whether the extensive postal investigation, which searched the records of every county in Pennsylvania since 1882, will really convince the hopeful "beneficiaries." Belief in something one wants desperately to believe is the hardest of all beliefs to kill.

War in the Near East

A CABLE DISPATCH RECORDS THE latest steps in the rivalry between Britain and Italy for control of the Arab world.

LONDON—Alarmed by the popularity of Abdul Wahab, known as the "Bing Crosby of the Near East," whose crooning from Italy's powerful station at Bari delights the Arabs in Palestine, the British Broadcasting Corporation broadcast by short wave a jazz programme by Carroll Gibbons and His Boy Friends.

Notes

The antidote for any notion that warring nations are getting rich at it is to take a look at one's own tax receipt here at home.

One quotation from Shakespeare and one from Browning were cut out of a recent movie because British censors "don't permit Bible quotations."

China is backward because the central government cannot control Chinese warlords; and Japan is not responsible because the Japanese army is out of control.

Some 60,000 race fans bet $939,000 at Santa Anita track on New Year's Day. Can it be that the race wires have not carried any news about the business "recession"?

CENSORSHIP A MENACE

From Ottawa Journal
Newspaper film critics have chosen "Zola" as the most distinguished motion picture of 1937. And this is the picture, it will be recalled, that was banned from the province of Quebec by the Quebec Board of Censors—banned for reasons that never were made public, for reasons that certainly were not obvious.

Everywhere but in Quebec Zola was acclaimed as a film masterpiece by critics and the public, and it was endorsed by the Legion of Decency in the United States, a Roman Catholic organization of very exacting standards of morality and religion.

But the mind of the censor often is beyond understanding. The autocratic prohibition of such a notable picture, the refusal to explain why this course was taken, make it quite clear that the dangers of censorship may be greater than the perils from which censorship is supposed to save us.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OLD QUESTION

ATTORNEY-GENERAL WISMER, who is starting a campaign to make motorizing safe by examining all drivers, should examine also the latest findings of the experts of the United States Department of Commerce. These gentlemen, who probably know more about automobile accidents than anyone have issued a report in which they say:

"Most highway fatalities are due to fast or careless driving. To date, most of the efforts of accident-preventing groups, supported largely by automotive industry funds, have been directed at inducing drivers to drive carefully. Generally speaking, this plan has failed. Motor-accident fatalities have mounted steadily since organized safety work was first started by the National Safety Council in 1913. Particularly have they increased with the development of the high-speed car, which began in about 1925.

"Everybody agrees that speed must be controlled. The automotive industry is clinging desperately to the theory that its vast army of salesmen can sell high-speed cars (with emphasis on their power) and then a much smaller group of safety workers can induce owners to drive moderately and carefully. This theory is being rapidly disproved.

"There is an insistent demand for a reliable speed control, or governor. Automotive manufacturers say no governor has been designed which cannot be tampered with. Such a device or some plan which would effectively keep speeds within safe limits would meet a great public demand and should pay its designer well. A far from perfect one, used on 20,000 trucks in CCC camps, reduced accidents 50 per cent."

Ah, but we'll never surrender our freedom to drive fast and kill ourselves. Why, Mr. Wismer couldn't even persuade the Legislature to fix any limit outside municipalities.

LEISURE ACE

THIS NEW AGE of leisure develops many curious habits in people who don't have enough work to do. One of the most annoying is the practice of writing comments in the margins of library books. It is surprising how energetic people can be about such work, how painstaking and efficient when they are too wealthy or too exhausted or too lazy to do anything useful.

Apparently there is a kind of secret cult of margin writers who flourish in this city, working day and night in a kind of insane fervor to cover every margin of every book in every library. You can picture them sitting at home secretly, with the blinds drawn, the doors locked and the keyholes plugged, laboring far into the night in the hope of making themselves immortal, like a small boy carving his name on a monument, hoping to launch their opinions out into the world and to remake society by means of some absurd comment on the works of better men.

It is sad to think how much labor is wasted which might be better devoted to playing bridge or writing letters to the newspapers or something useful. And really, these marginal notes which are crawled with such effort don't have any profound effect on those who read them. When a fellow writes on a margin that the author of the book is an ass, this profound thought is quite wasted. I know that already. Nor do I grow very excited when I find the whole economic system torn apart in a few scrawled sentences at the top of the page. The average man, in fact, revolts against this propaganda which has precisely the effect that the propagandist didn't want.

But the margin writers will go on laboring, not for profit, not for fame, but for the sheer joy of the work.

QUAINT THEORY

MR WILLIAM N. MCNAIR, a prominent figure in the politics of Pittsburgh, has just discovered the real reason for the present recession in United States business. He has made a careful study of past depressions and found out that whenever women's skirts are short, times are good, but when they get long, as at present, times are bad. Skirts apparently work exactly like the business index, which follows them up and down.

This is discouraging to any economists, for, obviously, while you may plan your economy and fix your prices, you will never be able to plan women's fashions or fix the length of their skirts. They would rather starve than be out of fashion, and often do on a fancy diet. However, Mr. McNair's theory is not regarded seriously by the orthodox economists and business leaders of the United States. They say his notion is fantastic. Instead, they believe a much sounder theory which runs like this: The orthodox laissez-faire policies of the Hoover administration produced the great depression of 1929, so therefore, if Roosevelt can be induced to return to the Hoover policies, they would soon end the recession of 1937 and bring back good times. They say Mr. McNair is merely a joker while they preach their theory without any intention of being funny.

DIPLOMATIC SOCIAL NOTES

From a Washington Correspondent
Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador, as well as the Japanese Embassy officials, attended the diplomatic reception at the White House. The Japanese counselor approached Sir Ronald—who is one of the tallest diplomats in Washington—looked up and introduced himself: "I am the counselor of the Japanese embassy." "How do you do?" the unbending Lindsay acknowledged, coldly. "I know your ambassador in Tokyo," the Japanese continued. "Really?" Sir Ronald returned. "Is he still alive?"

Diplomatic Tempest Stirred at Ottawa Over Defence Story

By NORMAN M. MacLEOD OTTAWA.

THE government is satisfied that simple failure of one of the editors of The Toronto Globe and Mail to exercise the grey matter so abundantly evident elsewhere in the paper upon an Ottawa dispatch was responsible for the tempest stirred up in diplomatic circles during the past few days which has required all the tact and finesse that the administration possesses to calm.

The provocative "dispatch" attributed to the ministry the intention of joining with the United States in a scheme for the defence of the Pacific Coast. The editor of The Globe and Mail evidently considered the idea a good one, for the story was singled out for the major "play" in the edition. It ran under an eight-column sweep line and a double column headline on page one.

It may have been good news for The Globe and Mail. But it was a nightmare for the Department of National Defence. That branch of the federal service has been trying in all sincerity to carry out the present government's policy of preparedness for the nation, but of impartial and benevolent neutrality to all peoples. The suggestion which The Globe and Mail reported as a fact could be open to no other interpretation, however, than that Canada had identified herself with the defence policy of the American Republic and had taken sides, decisively and gratuitously, in the current drama of United States-Japanese rivalry.

ENCOURAGED by The Globe and Mail story, furthermore, Dr. Chang-Lok Chen, new consul-general for China, took occasion while addressing one of the service clubs in the capital to strengthen the government's hand for joint action on the Pacific Coast.

"You Canadians," he said, "will rue the day you neglected your western defences. If you think you will remain secure by folding your arms and relying on the English navy and the Monroe doctrine, you will be in the position of China which relied on the Kellogg pact."

The combined reaction of these events on the Japanese embassy here can be better imagined than described. Suffice it to say that the government has intimated the reassurance for which the situation calls, namely, that the intention of Canada is unchanged, that it has entered into no military commitment with any power, and that its policy is still one of determined neutrality and of minding its own affairs.

ACTUALLY, the government feels that The Globe and Mail, even allowing for a certain degree of unfamiliarity with the large problem of Pacific policy, should have realized the political impossibility of a "Made-in-Washington" defence policy and should have given second thought to the dispatch which it published. At any rate, anyone who is familiar to the slightest degree with Canada's policy of Pacific Coast defence realizes that it is based entirely upon a theory of neutrality. What the government recognizes as the menace of the Pacific Coast is the thousands of miles of indentations which exist, which any power making war upon the United States might conceivably attempt to use to provide a secret base for raiding and other operations. Consequently, Canada's naval programme is based upon the necessity of being able to patrol thoroughly the indented British Columbia coast, in order that no operations may take place which conceivably might bring the Dominion's strict neutrality into question.

Incidentally, the Chinese consul-general who issued his well-meant warning to the Dominion is not being allowed to escape censure. Inquiries have been instituted to learn if he was correctly reported. If it develops that he was—as is almost certainly the case—the Canadian authorities will let his government know that they consider that he has been guilty of a grave impropriety in presuming to advise the Dominion on defence policy.

SPEED FIENDS ON BURN-SIDE

To the Editor:—The thanks of all Saanich pedestrians are due to you for publishing the Loose Ends article Saturday calling attention to the violation of speed regulations by criminally-insane motorists who travel at 40 or 50 or even up to 60 miles an hour. Burnside Road especially has become a danger spot owing to these speed fiends and one can only hope that Mr. Hutchison's warning will stir the police of Saanich into action.

Your publication of Mr. Wismer's appeal to motorists of Victoria and district to slow down and use greater care might well be followed up with a list of the opposition members who so strongly opposed the passage of the Attorney-General's bill to limit the speed of motor vehicles to 30 miles an hour, and the grounds on which their opposition was based.

BUSES AND GAS

To the Editor:—I would like to ask the man from Admirals Road who wrote concerning our modern buses, if he has ever received any illness due to the gas given off by the bus exhaust. I suppose he would answer in the negative.

I would like to inform him though, that I have heard of several instances where people have gotten severe, colds due to the draughty street cars (very few are ever heated even on the cold days).

He goes so far as to say that he thinks the buses coming up to the curb to pick up passengers is faulty, which I think is one of its most favorable points. It will eliminate people having to cross to the middle of the street to board street cars, thus cutting the risk of being hit by passing automobiles.

FROM AN OLD YUKONER

To the Editor:—I agree with the secretary of the Young Liberals of Nanaimo when he says more power to the Pattullo and the Chambers and less power to the McKelvie and others who are always throwing monkey wrenches into the machinery of the wheels of progress. There is nothing so nauseating to an old Yukoner as to have to listen to such drivel as spoken recently re the Alaska Highway.

I would like to see compiled as near as possible the amount of money left in Victoria and Vancouver each winter by Yukoners sojourning there. I think it would surprise the most skeptical.

FROM A YOUNG CITIZEN

To the Editor:—I fear your correspondent, Hettie Hennigan, is attempting to argue a subject beyond her immediate knowledge. In her first letter she stated that she did not know what Communism is, nor had she ever seen a Communist, the latter being very strange, as she attended A. A. McLeod's meeting. She now says that she read the article "A Professor Quits the Communist Party" and still knows no more about Communism than she did formerly, which was nothing.

May I ask then, how she can call herself qualified to judge whether the League for Peace and Democracy is Communist inspired and controlled (my original contention) when by her own admission she wouldn't know a Communist if she saw one?

She further states that the sole purpose of the Young Citizen's League, with which I am connected, is opposition to Communism. While this is most definitely one of our objects, it is by no means our whole programme.

If Hettie Hennigan is sincere in her statement that "neither Communism nor Fascism is democratic—we want neither," I feel she owes it to democracy to come out strongly against this misnamed League for Peace and Democracy.

WALT DISNEY STILL ALIVE

To the Editor:—Could you furnish me with information as to whether Walt Disney, who writes Mickey Mouse comic cartoons is still alive or not, and if dead when did he die.

Two men were talking together in the public library. Said one: "The dime novel has gone. I wonder where it's gone to?"

The other, who knew something of literature in its various phases, answered cynically: "It's gone to two dollars and fifty cents."

How to Make a Splendid Cough Remedy at Home

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid medicine for bad winter coughs. It makes a real saving for you, because it gives you four times as much cough remedy for your money. It lasts a long time never spoils, and children love it.

This is a very effective, dependable, quick-acting cough remedy for the whole family. Quickly, you feel its penetrating effect in the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You'll be more than delighted with its quick effect in clearing up bad coughs.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine, in concentrated form, a well known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Percy Grainger Says Canadians Lack Local Interest

TORONTO (CP)—Ask 1,000 Canadians to name a single outstanding Canadian composer of music and only about 100 could give you an answer, Percy Grainger said today.

The Australian pianist and composer, here as guest conductor for tonight's concert of the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, said Canada is one of the countries where music "lacks local interest."

In Italy, Germany, Finland and other such countries the composers are known to the masses of people.

Mr. Grainger said it had taken him 10 years—from 1909 to 1918—to compose his most popular work, "Country Gardens."

Salt Spring Women At Two Meetings

GANGES, Salt Spring Island—The monthly meeting of Ganges Chapter, I.O.G.E., took place at Ganges on Friday with the regent, Mrs. D. G. Crofton, in the chair. The financial statement showed $31.07 on hand. Reports on progress of the Girl Guide Company, sponsored by the chapter, were given by the guide captain, Miss Shirley Wilson, and the secretary, Mrs. T. Burkitt.

It was decided that the chapter

Fish is the food for that little boy or girl, who is growing so fast... who uses up so much energy in play... whose appetite is so tremendous!

For Fish is not only delicious... children love it... but it is nourishing, body-building, full of the health-promoting elements, and the greatest known source of Vitamin "D"... the sunshine Vitamin... that means so much to the vitality of children.

Serve Canadian Fish or Shellfish to the whole family. They will enjoy it... and it is good for them. There are over 60 different kinds of Canadian Fish and Shellfish from which to choose... sea fish and freshwater fish... and whether you like them fresh, frozen, smoked, dried, canned or pickled, you will find them all delicious in flavour, and economical to prepare.

Executives In Role of Artistes

Canadian Club Musical Tea Is Great Success

The wealth of talent latent in the leaders of the Women's Canadian Club was brought to light yesterday afternoon when the club held a musicale in the Empress ballroom in aid of its bursary fund, the affair being a success from the artistic, social and financial standpoints.

Over 400 members and guests attended, and obviously enjoyed the delightful programme to which Mrs. Harold Campbell, the president, Mrs. Archie Willis, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Mrs. T. H. Johns and Mrs. Chas. Conyers, all of the executive, contributed numbers. Mrs. F. G. Aldous arranged the musical programme, and Mrs. James Adam, who arranged the dramatic part, also acted as chairman.

SPECIAL GUESTS

Mrs. Eric Hamber, honorary president of the club, was a special guest and was received by Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Adam, Mrs. S. J. Willis and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew.

Mrs. Campbell gracefully welcomed Mrs. Hamber and the wives of the cabinet ministers and other special guests, and read a message of greeting from Mrs. T. D. Pattullo, who was unable to be present. The president also read a letter from Mrs. C. B. McAllister of Vancouver, conveying greetings to the club from Lady Bessborough, Lady Willington and Lady Byng, whom she had seen while in England recently.

THE PROGRAMME

The attractive programme included the following numbers, all of which were warmly applauded: Vocal solos, Mrs. Archie Willis, "Sunlight Waltz Song" (Ware) and Mozart's "Silently Blending"; cello solos, Mary Bucklin Hammond, "Elegie" (Faure) and Poppo's "Mazurka"; vocal solos, Mrs. H. L. Campbell, "Non e Ver" (Tito Mattel) and "But Why?" (Frederick Knight Logan); pianoforte solos, Macquinn-Daniels, "Rhapsodie" (Dohnanyi) and "The Two Donkeys" (Grove); contralto solos, Mrs. F. F. Aldous, "The Last Hour" (Kramer) and "None But the Lonely Heart" (Tschalkowsky); the cello obbligato played by Mary Bucklin Hammond; vocal solos, Mrs. T. Harry Johns, "Serenade" (Schubert) and "I Love Life" (Manna Zucca). The accompaniments were played by Mrs. Charles Conyers and Mrs. C. C. Wain.

As the concluding item, three members of the Little Theatre Association presented a scene from Barrie's "Quality Street." Betty Hetherington and Audrey Wood taking the roles of Phoebe and Susan Throssel, and Fraser Lister as Valentine Brown.

TEA IN FOYER

Tea was later served in the foyer, the long buffet tables being beautifully arranged with great bowls of Taisman roses, gold and tawny chrysanthemums and fern, and tall yellow tapers in silver candelabra.

Among the guests of honor were Mrs. E. W. Hamber, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. F. M. MacPherson, Mrs. G. M. Weir, Mrs. K. C. MacDonald, Mrs. John Hart, Mrs. G. S. Pearson, Mrs. W. J. Asselstine, Mrs. Norman W. Whittaker, Mrs. C. S. Wismer, Mrs. A. Watson, Mrs. C. B. McAllister (Vancouver), Mrs. Donald Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Lister, the assisting artists, Mrs. S. J. Willis and Mrs. Mayhew.

Presiding at the tea table were the following past-presidents of the club: Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, Mrs. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. H. P. Hodges, Mrs. J. C. F. Hyndman, Mrs. Kathleen Agnew and Mrs. P. B. Scurrah.

Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. W. C. Fyfe and Mrs. P. E. Taylor were responsible for the tea arrangements, and assisting as servers were Mrs. T. A. Johnston, Mrs. Donald MacEadie, Mrs. Munro, Mrs. T. H. Johns, Mrs. Charles Conyers, Mrs. Archie Willis, Mrs. F. G. Aldous and Mrs. James Adam. Mrs. T. H. Johns was responsible for the setting of the platform for the play.

Mrs. John Naysmith, 2757 Asquith Street, entertained at a party on Monday in honor of the fifth birthday of her daughter, Joan Louise. Gaily-colored balloons were hung about the rooms, and the tea table was attractively arranged with circus animals in bright colors. The birthday cake cleverly simulated a merry-go-round, with five candles serving as flags, and the place cards took the form of candy baskets made of colored cellophane. Assisting in serving the tiny guests were Mrs. L. Tudor, Mrs. R. Simm and Miss Marjorie McDougall. After tea the children played games, while the mothers had tea. The invited guests were: Mrs. R. Simm, with Jocelyn; Mrs. E. Wells, with Beverley and Dennis; Mrs. R. Stranix, with Sharon and Barry; Mrs. W. Williamson, with Patricia; Mrs. A. Doherty, with

The regular monthly meeting of the Athena Club, was held at the home of Mrs. T. L. McRae, 748 Transit Road, Monday evening, 15 members being present and one new member welcomed. After the business, Mrs. R. T. Murphy reviewed the book, "Beloved Friend," by Catherine Duncker Bowen and Barbara Von Meek, a biography based on letters revealing the romance of Tschalkowsky and Nadjda Von Meek. Mrs. Murphy's clever review was much appreciated by the members.

Centennial W.M.S. held its first meeting of the year on Monday in the church parlour, with the president, Mrs. Elder, in the chair and 32 present. The roll call was responded to with verses of Scripture, and was followed by a resume of the year's work by Mrs. H. Harris, recording secretary. It was noted that $419.63 was raised in 1937, the largest amount contributed in the history of the society. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. S. S. Peat, read letters from bereaved members expressing thanks for flowers, visits and letters of sympathy. Mrs. Elder, with Mrs. J. Walton and Mrs. H. B. Harris, were named delegates to the Presbyterian annual meeting. Mrs. N. A. Glaspeil, Christian stewardship secretary, gave a report and the temperance secretary, Mrs. Mitchell, read a letter from Mrs. D. A. Cupid "Converts" Evangelist

Wedding bells are to ring for Uldine Utley, now 25, who won fame as a girl evangelist 10 years ago. Wilbur Eugene Langrop of Osage City, Mo., with whom she is pictured above in New York City, converted her to matrimony. In 1925 she had scoffed, "Marriage? If I were a man I wouldn't marry a woman-preacher. They declaim too much."

Feuilleton—ANDREW and IMOGENE

By ROE FULKERSON

"Anything wrong with you?" asked Imogene as they sat in the living-room after dinner.

"I guess not," replied Andrew hesitatingly.

"Are you in some kind of trouble down town?"

"No."

"Are you sick?"

"Why, no, I can't exactly say that I am."

"Then why do you sit there looking at your toes, with your hands folded on your stomach?"

"I'm sorry, I didn't know I was doing so."

"Then what's the matter?"

"Oh, I don't know. Just a little depressed, I suppose."

"What are you depressed about?"

"Nothing, dear, nothing," he said impatiently.

"That's absurd! Why are you depressed if you have nothing to be depressed about? You talk like a woman!"

"Do only women get depressed without cause?" asked Andrew.

"Of course!"

"Why?"

"Because they are women! You aren't a woman."

"I have often thought of that."

"Of what?"

"That I am not a woman. I can look down at my feet and see how large they are. I can see that I have trousers on. I can notice a lot of things about me which make me arrive at the conclusion that I am not a woman."

"Then why are you depressed about nothing?"

"Maybe I am depressed because I am not a woman!"

"Why not?"

"What fun is it being a woman?"

"She can be depressed without reason, at least!"

"Are you still insisting on that silly idea that you are depressed?"

"Well, I suppose so."

"Well, if I must say so, you are very ungrateful! You have a baby daughter as pretty as a picture; you have a nice home and a nice wife, as nice a wife as any man I know; and yet you sit there and tell me that you are depressed without reason, when she is doing all she can to cheer you up!"

"You should be very grateful to me for not being really angry with you, the way you are acting. Anyone would think I bored you, or that you were not happily married or something. Besides, only women get blues when they have no reason to!"

"I told you when I first asked you about the way you were feeling, that it was absurd to act that way about it, yet you persist in being silly and feeling depressed!"

"What is the matter with you, Andrew?"

"I'm feeling better every minute!" assured Andrew. "Go right on talking to me."

"Somehow, I don't like the way you say that! It sounds a bit sarcastic, and goodness knows you should be thankful that I trouble to talk to you at all, the way you were looking when I first spoke, and the way you talked to me. Any one seeing that lugubrious expression on your face would never think you had a pretty daughter and a nice wife."

"There you go again," exclaimed Andrew happily. "That nice wife and that pretty child of mine! They passed in review just a few minutes ago!"

"If you never saw them again, it would serve you right!" snapped Imogene.

STAR SUSPENDED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Barbara Stanwyck, red-haired screen actress, told reporters yesterday she had been temporarily suspended by R-K-O Studios "as a disciplinary measure."

She said the suspension had nothing to do with her court battle with her divorced husband, Frank Fay, over custody of their adopted child.

"It merely was a difference of opinion between an artist and a producer," she said. "They wanted me to play the lead in 'Distant Fields.' I objected because it was similar to the ageing woman role I played in 'Stella Dallas' and I felt that two of such roles would tend to type me."

"I have often thought of that."

"Of what?"

"That I am not a woman. I can look down at my feet and see how large they are. I can see that I have trousers on. I can notice a lot of things about me which make me arrive at the conclusion that I am not a woman."

Alive and well is the 4½-pound post-mortem baby son, shown above in a respirator, who was taken from his mother, Mrs. Margaret Beaver Newton, wife of a Wyoming rancher, just one minute after she died in a Cheyenne hospital physicians, who worked with lightning speed to save the child, said he will live.

At the meeting of the Victoria Burns Club last evening in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, Alex McCloy gave a most interesting and instructive address on the subject of "Old Scottish Silver."

Mr. McCloy explained, that by markings found on silver articles the exact dating might be determined. With diagrams Mr. McCloy illustrated the different markings used during the ages by silversmiths in many parts of Scotland. He told of interesting experiences in dealing with silver antiques. In the possession of the descendants of an old Glasgow family on Vancouver Island, Mr. McCloy found an extremely rare piece of silver which, along with a few other bits of silver, realized over $1,000 for the family.

An excellent programme of entertainment was arranged by Adam Bell, including several enjoyable Highland dances by the Misses Helen Finlayson, Jessie Pollock, Evelyn Watson and Gwen Dew, accompanied by Pipe Major Donald Cameron. James Matheson's solo, "The Flute Player," was greatly enjoyed, also the selections "Angus MacDonald" and "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," by H. T. Harmsworth. These were accompanied on the piano by Miss Jessie Smith. Pipe Major D. Cameron entertained with a selection on the pipes.

W. B. Grant, president of the club, announced the annual Burns Club dinner will be held on January 25 at the Empress Hotel.

A vote of thanks to the lecturer and the performers was proposed by Capt. R. W. MacMurray. The meeting then closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

The Knights and Dames of the Thistle will hold their Burns anniversary concert, supper and dance on Friday in the K. of P. Hall, Broad Street. An excellent programme has been arranged, with the following artists: Mrs. Marjorie Watson Goodwin, Miss Mae Muir, J. J. Matheson, George Guy and others; Rev. T. H. McAllister will give the address to the haggis and D. Balnave the address to the immortal bard; recitations by James Walker, community singing and Highland dancing. Haggis supper will be served by the Dames and a dance will follow.

Swallowed Pin Many Years Ago

PECOS, TEXAS (AP)—For 20 years Miss Reba Foster, now 27, suffered from chronic appendicitis.

Yesterday surgeons removed her appendix and found, imbedded there, an ordinary three-fourth inch straight pin.

Miss Foster recalled having swallowed the pin when she was seven.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk. A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Fine Follows Long Wandering

But A. Moroz Will Not Be Sent From Timmins, Ont., to California

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP)—Andrew Moroz, who said he was "haunted" by the memory of a slaying 12 years ago, was fined $10 and costs for being drunk in a public place by Magistrate S. Atkinson in police court here Tuesday. He was given an alternative of 30 days in jail.

berjack walked into the office of The Timmins Daily Press last Friday and dramatically announced he had murdered a Fred Miller in Sacramento, Cal., August 10, 1925. He had roamed 30,000 miles since then trying to escape the memory.

Crown Attorney S. A. Caldwell announced Tuesday he had received instructions from the California capital not to hold Moroz any longer for the confessed killing.

The District Attorney's office at Sacramento stated it had been unable to locate any witness of the fatal shooting. Since Moroz said in his voluntary confession that his pistol discharged when Miller grabbed for it, Sacramento authorities think they would be unable to obtain a conviction against Moroz. They were willing to drop the case.

Nanaimo Mayor Leaves Office

At His Last Council Meeting, Barsby Hears Tributes From Colleagues

NANAIMO—Tributes to Mayor Barsby's fine service to Nanaimo were paid by his colleagues on the City Council at this week's meeting. Mayor Barsby has left the mayor's chair after eight years continuous service, and will run tomorrow for the office of school trustee.

All aldermen expressed their regret at Mayor Barsby's retirement. The mayor thanked them for their kind sentiments and said he would maintain his interest in civic affairs, and that during the coming year he would probably meet the council many times, asking for money for school affairs. He said the council's record was a good one. "We paid our bonded indebtedness and kept our heads above water," he said.

Plans to make Nanaimo an athletic centre for the northern half of the island will be discussed, at a public meeting on Friday, and Alderman Hindmarch was named the council's representative to the party. Advertisability of increasing athletic facilities for Nanaimo will be discussed.

Nanaimo suffered a total fire damage of $340 in December, the fire chief's report, tabled at the meeting, showed.

War sufferers in China will be aided by a tag day on Saturday of this week. The council granted permission to the League for Peace and Democracy for this purpose.

Damage Claim Judgment Held

Appeal Court Reserves Ruling in Vancouver Case

The Court of Appeal reserved judgment in the appeal of Smith vs. B. C. Electric Railway Co. yesterday following presentation of argument by W. B. Farris, K.C., for the appellant company, and C. Carmichael for the respondent.

The action arose over the claim for damages brought by the executrix of the estate of John Thomas Smith, killed when struck by a street car in Vancouver, against the company. The action was heard at the end of last September by a judge and jury and resulted in disagreement by the jury.

Plaintiff respondent applied for an order permitting amendment of the writ and statement of claim by setting up a further allegation of negligence by the operator of a second street car. The order was granted.

The defendant brought the appeal, claiming the further allegations of negligence amounted to a new cause of action and was barred, not having been brought within the year required by the "Family Compensation Act."

Respondent's counsel said the deceased had started to cross a street in front of a street car without noticing a second car on another track. In order to avoid the second car, he had stepped back, in front of the first car.

Counsel contended the amendment did not involve the setting up of a new cause of action, but would allow the respondent to give evidence of negligence on the part of the second street car operator in addition to the first.

Events Challenge To Liberalism

Some of the happenings which are challenging the attention of Liberals at the present time were reviewed by Mrs. Nancy Hodges in a brief address before Ward Two Liberals last night at headquarters.

The speaker touched upon the Duplessis-Hepburn alliance over the question of the exportation of power to the United States, and alluded to the fight being waged by President Roosevelt against the economic domination of the States by a minority group. Reference was also made to the position of labor, and the recent legislation introduced in British Columbia to bring about more harmonious relations between capital and labor.

Liberalism was fundamentally plastic enough to meet the challenge of the ever-changing expansion and development of human needs, said Mrs. Hodges, and as such had in it the essentials to make for the maintenance of democratic ideals and the furtherance of understanding between capital, labor and government.

M. C. McPhail, president, was in the chair and R. C. Lowe moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

Maroons Beat Canadiens As Record Set

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

ANGELO LUISETTI didn't realize he was shattering the world scoring record for a single basketball game until it suddenly dawned on him that the stream of substitutes coming in from the Stanford bench was performing in a rather strange manner. Stanford was playing Duquesne University and was enjoying a healthy lead of some 50 points. Luisetti knew he had tossed quite a few field goals. Just how many he didn't know.

Then it was that Hank, as he is more familiarly known, noticed that replacements were trying to pass the ball to him at every opportunity. In fact they tried too hard. Passes were going wild. Luisetti called time out to find out why. He was told he had scored 35 points in the first half and the world record for a single game was 41. So Coach John Bunn gave orders to feed the lanky sharpshooter until he had racked up all the points he could get.

When the evening's work was done, Luisetti had scored the amazing total of 50 points, as Stanford routed the Duke's 92 to 27. There is little doubt that Hank is the greatest college player ever developed.

"He's perfectly balanced," says Bunn. "His co-ordination is remarkable. He never makes a false move. That one-handed shot of his can't be stopped by anyone, and he lets it fly from anywhere on the floor. What's more, he's a great team leader, and a marvelous floor man. He could play on our team if he never scored a point."

Luisetti frankly admits he established no reputation at all, as a high school player.

"I was just a big, skinny kid, and if I made six points a game I considered myself hot. It wasn't until I got to Stanford that I developed my scoring eye."

His "scoring eye," incidentally, enabled him to sink 416 points in his sophomore year, and 410 points as a junior. All-America choice two years and is headed for his third—despite the fact that just a few weeks before the present campaign opened he underwent an appendectomy.

"People wonder why I shoot one-handed," he explains. "The answer is simple. It isn't showmanship as many suspect. I don't have to take time to get set when I shoot one-handed. That saves a half second. I can shoot while in motion, and what probably is most important of all, I can shoot with more accuracy."

Basketball is his chief love, although in his sophomore year he made his varsity letter as a high jumper. Since then he has stuck to the cage sport exclusively. But Angelo (Hank) Luisetti isn't one to take all the credit for his deeds. "I have the good fortune to be playing with the greatest fellows in the world," he asserts. "They'd rather have me shoot than anything else. And don't forget, too, that John Bunn made me the high-scorer I am."

Clubs Pile Home Eighteen Goals In Wild Scramble

Major Hockey Scoring Record Broken as Maroons Capture Game 11 to 7

Boston Victor

There is something definitely daffy about a hockey team that can produce two such games as Montreal Maroons have played in three nights.

Shut out 1 to 0 by Chicago Black Hawks Sunday—held scoreless by a team trying out a new defence—Tommy Gorman's men suddenly broke out in a scoring rash last night that earned them an 11 to 7 victory over the powerful Montreal Canadiens. The game set a record for modern hockey in total goals scored.

National League officials in Montreal could remember only one game that approached last night's that was a tight little thing Maroons and New York Americans played in New York on February 18, 1936, when they tied 8 to 8.

Record searching probably won't unearth anything larger than last night's 18 total.

Perhaps the most reasonable explanation for Maroons' victory is that, after Maroons scored three goals in six minutes of the first period, Canadiens loosened their defence to lend power to their attack. Certainly, the Habitant rearguard wasn't working with its usual efficiency.

And the burst of Maroon goals in the first session that eventually led them to victory cost Canadiens their tie with Americans for second place in the Canadian division.

CROWD TORONTO

The New Yorkers, tying Black Hawks 1 to 1 at New York, moved in front of Canadiens and to within a game of the leading Toronto Maple Leafs. At the same time Boston Bruins were improving their lead in the American division by downing Detroit Red Wings 6 to 2 at Boston.

Maroons seemingly forgot the shutout at Chicago from the start of last night's game and played back to their form at Montreal last Thursday when they defeated Leafs 6 to 3. They rapped in three goals in a little more than six minutes and scored another trio in less than five toward the end of the period.

They had a 7 to 2 lead at the first stop, made it 9 to 4 at the end of the second session and were outscored only in the third when Canadiens got three to their two. Almost everyone on the ice but the netminders got into the summary as 42 scoring points were handed out.

Baldy Northcott of Maroons was top man with three goals while Dave Trotter and Gus Marker of Maroons and Johnny Gagnon and Toe Blake of Canadiens each got a pair. Herb Cain, Allan Shields, Ruse Blinco and Jimmy Ward of Maroons and Dizzy Desilets, Babe Siebert and Paul Haynes of Canadiens also scored.

PENALTIES HURT

Half of the Bruins' six goals at Boston were scored while Detroit players were on the penalty bench. Bruins scored twice in each period while Wings got the first goal and another in the second.

Charlie Sands, Art Jackson, Gordon Pettigler, Bill Cowley, Eddie Shore and Ray Gelliffe shared the Boston-scoring while Carl Liscombe scored the first one for Detroit and aided Larry Aulie in the second.

Only 9,000 New Yorkers turned out for the Ching Johnson night they staged in Madison Square Garden. The veteran defenceman was presented with a gold watch by his admirers after which Eddie Wiseman scored for Americans in the first and Johnny Gottselig got Chicago's counter in the second. The game had few bright moments.

But it was marked by two in-

Crucial Cage Games Tonight

Battles Between Intermediate Hoop Teams Feature League Card

With playoffs scheduled to open shortly, quintettes in the intermediate A boys' division of the Victoria and District Basketball League will be out to strengthen their positions for one of the three final berths this evening at the High School. Four squads in this division will pair off for battles.

The evening's show will open with Chinese Students opposing the Ramblers, Dominos' farm team. The Students need every win they can get to make the finals, and will be out to make things plenty warm for the Ramblers. This game will start at 7.15.

Beaten in their last two starts, St. Louis College Alumni will attempt to regain some of their lost ground when they tackle the Canadian Scottish, who are riding along on an even basis with Kingham-Gillespie. The Kitties will have to win tonight to retain their position. They will meet in the second game.

The night's card will be topped off with a meeting between women's squads, Bob Whyte's Adverts and Gainers' Superiors.

Little Al Murray Small But Deadly

Diminutive Defence Star of Americans Best Body-checker in N.H.L.

NEW YORK — The National Hockey League's best illustrator of that old principle "the bigger they are the harder they fall" also is the National Hockey League's smallest defenceman. The two packed into 155 pounds of one give you Al Murray of New York Americans.

On the say-so of his boss, Merwin (Red) Dutton, Al is the best body-checker in the league today. On the say-so of N.H.L. president Frank Calder, Al has more heart than "any man his size I've ever seen."

TOMMY FARR IN SPELLING BEE

Heavyweight Boxers to Meet Wrestlers in Radio Word Battle

America's biggest wrestlers will meet the world's heaviest fighters in the NBC spelling bee on Saturday, when the free-for-all match, no words barred, will be broadcast from coast-to-coast by the National Broadcasting Company from Tommy Farr's camp in Summit, New Jersey. The programme will be heard over the NBC-blue network from 5.30 to 6.

When the shades of Gene Tunney's Shakespearean build-up did descend on Madame Bey's training camp, the NBC spelling bee will assume a pachydermatous nature, and Paul Wing, genial spelling master, will present the big words to the big names of sportdom.

Spelling master Wing is already at work formulating a code of ethics to govern the match, under which Emily Post regulations will replace Marquis of Queensbury rules. For boxers, there will be no seconds allowed; for wrestlers, no grunts aloud. Mouthpieces are prohibited and no back-biting is permitted.

While the words to be spelled will be kept a strict secret until the meet begins, Spelling master Wing has given assurance that they'll run the alphabetical gauntlet from A to Z.

Mike Jacobs, 20th Century Sport Club promoter, is busy lining up the two teams and he hopes to have Tommy Farr as captain of the boxers. The boxers claim they ought to have a one or two-letter handicap because most of the wrestlers are college men.

SOCCER PRACTICE

A practice of the Fairfield Bluebird football team will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 at the Heywood Avenue grounds.

Joe Kaiser, 138, Vancouver, suffered a first-round knockout at the hands of Glenn Strong, 141, Tacoma, in the other bout. The Tacoma battler caught Kaiser with a right to the jaw which sent the British Columbian to the canvas in the first minute of the scheduled four-round event.

Says Japan Must Stage Olympiad

CHICAGO — Either the 1940 Olympic Games will be held in Japan, or there will be no renewal of the spectacle two years from next summer, says Avery Brundage, president of the United States Olympic committee.

Agitation to shift the games to Norway, Finland or some other place because of Japan's activities in China, will get nowhere, Brundage said, because it would be impossible for another country properly to prepare for the Olympic in the time remaining.

CLINT SMITH IS CONTENDER

New York Rangers' Rookie May Lift Two Player Awards in Major Hockey

NEW YORK — Protege of hockey's outstanding gentleman, little Clint Smith of Saskatoon, play-making star of New York Rangers, is among the contenders for two of the National League's most-prized awards.

Under the watchful eye of Frank Boucher, seven times winner of the Lady Byng Trophy as the "most gentlemanly" player in the major circuit, Smith with a clear penalty record, seems headed for similar recognition and, if eligible, stands a good chance to win the Frank Calder outstanding rookie award.

"It's not because he's not aggressive that he doesn't get penalties," said assistant coach Boucher, whom Smith has replaced on Rangers' first-string line. "He never steps back, but he's naturally a clean player and should sail right along with a clear record."

With five goals and 11 assists, Smith ranks fifth among American division scorers in his first full campaign under the big top. But it is a controversial question around Madison Square Garden whether Smith and other players who had short stays in the N.H.L. last season, qualify as rookies.

Manager Lester Patrick of the Rangers thinks only first-year players should be considered, but most of his men, as do the Americans, figure players similar to Smith, who was used in but two games in the N.H.L. last season, should qualify.

Hockey writers cast votes for both Neil Colville of Rangers and Ray Cettiffe of Boston Bruins last season, although both had seen action in the N.H.L. for short spells during the previous campaign. A first-year man, Syl Apps of Toronto Maple Leafs, won the award by a handy margin.

Known as "Snuffy" because of fondness for comic strips, Smith came up from Vancouver Lions via Philadelphia Ramblers with Bryan Hextall and Bobby Kirk. But he soon outgrew his wing mates and was placed between Lynn Patrick and Cecil Dillon, Rangers' big gunners, who last season took passes from the great Boucher.

The Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association will meet in the Colomist board room tomorrow night at 7.30, to deal with an appeal from the Bluebirds' football club against the Esquimalt Meat Market team of the same division. Officials, members of the appeal board and team managers of the two clubs concerned are asked to attend.

WOMAN'S RIGHT TO BE ADMIRER

To Have Charm—Vitality—A Good Figure

"Fruit-a-tives" fruit liver tablets will help you tremendously to hold attractiveness. Good skin, attractive personality, and a nice figure depend on whether your liver is healthy or not. If it is not strong and active you're bound to be too fat, flabby, pasty faced, dull, lazy. Soon your attraction will go. A healthy liver expels fat producing waste, keeps your blood pure, skin good, supplies energy. "Fruit-a-tives" made from fruits and herbs is the quick, safe and most natural way of keeping your liver in good health. Thousands of women take "Fruit-a-tives" to keep attractive. Try them. 25c, 50c, all drugists.

Tourists Like Local Manners

Found Everyone Most Agreeable and Charming Last Summer

Replies to questionnaires sent out by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau to Washington people who visited Victoria last summer were sorted this morning at the bureau's offices.

Nearly every one had some mention of the courtesy the visitors encountered when on Vancouver Island.

Some of the comments follow: "Attitude of people most gracious, especially the waiters in the restaurants."

"We like your people and their mode of living. They are very kindly — not in such a big rush as we in the States. They have more time to live and be sociable with strangers."

"The attitude of your people was a lesson to all of us."

"We like to mingle with people that do not seem to have a care in the world."

"The attitude of your people was lovely; we felt at home and safe there."

Immigration officers at Victoria especially nice.

"We could not afford to purchase any liquor because of the prices. Americans are bringing in their own liquor, which must result in an ultimate loss to you."

"The English institution of afternoon tea appealed to us very much."

"It is very hard to find your way about Victoria without a map of the city."

"Roads are a little rough and too many curves, but are pleasant when one has plenty of time."

"Your highways are very rough and narrow. In fact, I found a rattle in my car I didn't know I had."

U.S.-Italy Trade Negotiations End

Discussions For Pact Break Up on "Emperor of Ethiopia" Demand

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States refusal to recognize King Victor Emmanuel of Italy as Emperor of Ethiopia has resulted in suspension of the Italo-American negotiations for a commercial treaty.

Informed sources said Mussolini required the new treaty to be made in the name of Victor Emmanuel as King of Italy and Emperor of Ethiopia and that State Secretary Hull had refused.

Negotiations, they said, would now lapse for some months, during which the situation might be clarified.

The stalemate occurred suddenly when negotiations were proceeding excellently. Practically all obstacles had been removed and the two countries had already agreed to an ad interim understanding, announced last month, whereby Italy retreated from her closed economy position to the traditional most-favored-nation treatment.

Officials here are at a loss to understand Mussolini's insistence, since commercial treaties were made by Italy with other countries in 1936 and 1937 without bringing in Victor Emmanuel's rank as Emperor of Ethiopia.

Letters to the Editor

LAND VALUE TAXATION

To the Editor:—Mr. Crump states that every community that has tried the single tax has been brought to bankruptcy. This is incorrect in the assumption that the single tax has been tried. The reference no doubt is to the policy of exemption of improvements. That statement even in that respect is not supported by the facts. The financial difficulties referred to are the result of a policy permitting land to be held out of use, forcing those wishing to use the land to go farther out, followed by extension-of-city-limits, including added areas of unimproved land.

This added to the cost of civic functions and administration.

Then came the boom in real estate and prices rose to an unreasonable extent. In order to reap the speculative profit in these prices, streets, sewers, boulevards, etc., were provided in areas where not a house existed. Deflation was bound to come. With the war and contraction of credit, sales could not be made, taxes could not be met, and many parcels of land reverted.

The discontinuance of tax sales led to arrears mounting until they equalled, or in some cases exceeded, the market value, and with the resumption of tax sales further reversions resulted. From the results of speculation and failure to hold tax sales, communities are still suffering. The policy of exemption of improvements prevented the situation becoming worse, as it provided a limited check on the rise of speculative prices. The building in 1910-13 was due to this policy, for as taxation began to press on vacant land and the owners sought to obtain a revenue to carry the property, the exemption of improvements was a material factor in the building activity.

Had single tax been in effect

there would have been no boom, no speculation in land values, no holding of marketable land out of use. The city could have developed roundly from the centre

instead of by scattered localities, to the saving of civic expenditures.

Mr. Crump is surprised that single taxes are still to be found.

The progress of land value taxation in New Zealand and Australia, especially New South Wales and Sydney, is due to the presence of single taxers; while in Great Britain and Ireland the action of the London County Council approving the rating of land values, the recent voting in the House of Commons of 118

members in favor of a rating bill, the petitions of 600 municipalities in favor of taxation of land values, and the recent affirmation by the Irish Municipal Conference in favor of this principle, indicate the progress being made.

Mr. Crump advises the adoption of the method used in Great Britain. The effects of this can be seen in the experience of the London County Council. Since the war the council purchased

Life in Ancient Egypt VIII—THE SUN-GOD OF OLD EGYPT

As we study back into the lives of the people of ancient Egypt, we find that we began at an early date to wonder about the world in which they lived. While some wondered, others made up stories to explain how things came into being.

At first, the story-makers, declared, there was nothing but a mighty sea. As time passed, an egg floated upon the ocean waters, and from this egg sprang the sun-god.

The sun-god was named "Ra," and two of his children caused the earth and heaven to be separated. A son of Ra became the earth-god, and was known as Keb. The heaven came to be ruled by a goddess called Nut.

A legend believed by some of the Egyptians stated that Ra became the first king of men. Unhappily, there were those on earth who did not live justly. They gave trouble to their god-king and even plotted to drive him from the throne. To punish mankind, Ra sent a goddess to destroy those who lived. The goddess slew many, but the god grew sorry that he had told her to kill, and called her from the task. Tired of the earth, Ra went to the heaven to dwell.

Each day, said the story-tellers, Ra takes the sun across the sky. He carries it in a boat, and at noon changes from one boat to another. At evening he enters a cave in the west and passes under the earth.

All sorts of tales grew up about Ra. He was said to change his form at different times of the day, and different names were given to him for his changed appearance. His name at sunset was often given as "Tum." At this stage he wore a wig, as did the nobles and richer men of Egypt. Like the king or Pharaohs, he carried a scepter to show that he was ruler. In his right hand, the god held a cross, which stood for life everlasting.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

THURSDAY, JANUARY 13, 1938

Certain stars frown upon the earth on this 13th day of the month, according to astrology. Extreme caution should be exercised by busy men and women. The planetary government appears to favor those who hold places in the sun. Heads of business and government affairs are under lucky stars which may encourage misguided optimism toward world peace.

Mars is in menacing mood, which may not be apparent to many citizens of the United States. Residents of the Pacific Coast are to be interested in naval movements.

This is not a favorable date for starting anything and projects long considered may be prevented by untoward events. Discontent in Canada owing to the high cost of living is pronounced. The government may be faced with difficult issues. Legislation will thwart certain activities that bring big profits in merchandise and manufacturing, but there will be new fortunes for many Americans this year. Speculation will be profitable to certain men connected with big business.

Women are warned that words carrying fear of any sort should be avoided. They should be especially thoughtful in speaking in the presence of children. The young should be taught to avoid any but constructive ideas. Criticism and pessimism may be peculiarly poisonous this winter.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of progress, but there may be disappointments and delays. Both men and women should abhor hatred and should cultivate the spirit of forgiveness. Children born on this day probably will be energetic and industrious. Subjects of this sign succeed by hard work.

Salmon P. Chase, jurist and statesman, was born on this day, 1806. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Horatio Alger, writer, 1874; and William Copley Winslow, archaeologist, 1880. (Copyright, McF. & Newsweek, Inc.)

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a teacher of a class of junior girls. Each week these girls write a question and place it in a question box. The two that are asked oftenest are: How can I become more popular with the boys and hold their friendship? And: Is petting harmful? Can you give these girls any advice on these subjects? TEACHER.

Answer—No one can give girls any hard-and-fast rule for making a hit with boys, because not all boys have the same taste in girls any more than they have in ice cream sodas. The very thing that might strike one lad's fancy would leave another cold.

Some boys, for instance, like tall girls; others like pocket Venuses. Some favor brunettes and others blondes. Some like cuties and others sensible girls. Some like babblers and others want girls who will lend them their ears. So it is impossible to hold up any type on which a girl could form herself that would make her sure of always having dates.

Then, too, a girl's popularity depends upon her personality more than on any other one thing. That is something intangible that no one can describe or acquire by taking thought about it. It is just something that a girl has or she hasn't, and that's all there is about it. It is the come-hither look in her eyes that makes every man get up and follow one girl, while another just as pretty, just as intelligent, just as good a dancer has never a beau to bless herself with.

Generally speaking, however, the girl who wants to be popular with boys should make herself as good-looking as she can by keeping herself clean and well groomed, and dressing in clothes that flatter her instead of those that bring out her worst points. But boys do not like to go out with a girl who is over-dressed and conspicuous or who indulges in freakish hairdos, or who is so plastered with cosmetics that she looks like a painted barndoor. It takes a youth with a strong stomach to want to kiss lips that look like a bloody cut of butcher's meat.

Boys like to go about with girls who are easy to entertain. They like girls who are good dancers—no girl who is a peachy dancer is ever a wallflower—and who can play all sorts of games, who can sing a little, play the piano a little, cook a steak on a picnic and add to the pleasure of any occasion.

Boys like girls who go easy on their pocketbooks; who are not always hinting for presents; who can go by a restaurant without looking hungrily in the door; who can walk or ride in a street car instead of having to have a taxi, and who don't act as if they thought that a youth on a salary was the favorite son of John D. Rockefeller.

Boys like girls who are real and sincere, simple and unaffected and who don't pose as being something they are not. They like girls who are interested in their jobs instead of pretending to be society girls who work because they are bored with parties. They like girls who make their own clothes and who know how to cook and who like babies, instead of the lah-de-dah poor girls who turn up their noses at anything that isn't a French importation and who call babies brats.

Boys like girls to show them that they are pleased with their attentions and that they have a good time when they go out with them, but they don't want a girl to throw fits of gratitude over being taken to the movies. And they avoid girls as if they had the plague who are always trying to wheedle dates out of them, and who call them up in working hours to ask them where they have been and why they haven't been to see them. The best play that any girl can make for popularity is just to be herself.

As for petting, it makes a girl so common for her to let every Tom, Dick and Harry kiss her and paw her. It rubs the bloom off the rose, and when a girl loses her modesty she has lost her greatest charm.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am 34, in love with a married woman of 23. She loves me very much and is going to try to get a divorce from her husband, but many times we have arguments that are so hot that we come to the point of breaking up. In fact, I have thought of leaving her because when she gets angry with me she puts me in mind of the way she treats her husband. What do you think? F. F.

Answer—Of course, she will treat you the way she treats her husband after you stand in that gentleman's shoes. You don't suppose that marriage is going to work any sort of a miracle that will change her nature and habits and cure her temper and her love of arguing, do you?

The safest bet in the world is that a woman is going to be the same kind of a wife to a second, third, fourth or fifth husband that she was to her first, so you can take a look at how she treats her current husband with the certainty that that is the way she will treat you.

Eliminating a "Loser"

Trump Leads Should Be Delayed Long Enough to Stop Opponents From Running Adverse Suits

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

SOLUTION TO PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

The prospect of making his game contract did not appear too bright to East on today's hand. There were three heart losers if trumps were drawn, and a club as well, and hence the problem was to reduce this number of losers to three.

prevent a heart ruff in dummy. The trick was won in dummy to keep the trump strength in the long hand intact in case there was an unfavorable distribution in that suit.

As there was no chance to ruff his losing heart, East now made the play which gave him his contract. He led a low club from dummy, North winning with the jack. North now could only cash his ace of hearts and return a trump. Declarer won with the king and picked up the remaining trumps in South's hand. Now the losing heart was discarded on the set-up club suit in dummy.

Contract Problem (Solution in next issue)

South has bid three hearts. During the contracting, East made a free vulnerable bid of two spades over North's two clubs. Should west double?
